Last week, EDF launched the fourth edition of the EDF-Oracle e-accessibility scholarship to award a student with a disability studying in the field of Computer Science, Computer Engineering, User Experience, or related fields enrolled at an EU university for the academic year 2019-2020. You can find all the information in the scholarship news piece. We appreciate you sharing this with your personal and professional networks.

EDF Webinar: Towards Ambitious Transposition of Audiovisual Media Services Directive when: 6th of February 2020; 14:00-15:00 (Brussels time)

What is the Audiovisual Media Services Directive (AVMSD) and how will it improve access to audiovisual media content through television broadcast and online platforms like Netflix, HBO, Amazon or others? How to advocate your government to 'translate' the European Directive into stronger provisions on accessibility and protection of consumers with disabilities in national law. To get answers to these and any other questions you might have. See the registration information at <https://www.efhoh.org/edf-webinar-6-february-2020/>
